The Exam-Day Page

The Night-Before List

The computer, room, ID and check-in items come from Pearson's online-proctoring page for Anthropic or from Anthropic's own pages; the dock line comes from the Architect taker above, and the last two are this book's. Tick each one. If you are sitting at a test center, only the last four apply.

The computer

- [ ] System test run on the same computer and the same network you will use, in the last day or two. It takes 10 to 15 minutes. If you ran it in Chapter 2, run it again: updates change things.
- [ ] Windows 10 or macOS 14 or newer. One display only. No virtual machine.
- [ ] Webcam, microphone and speakers working. No headphones or headset.
- [ ] Internet of at least 6 Mbps down and 2 Mbps up, on a home connection. No VPN, and no corporate, public or shared network.
- [ ] Every application closed except the exam software, including the Claude desktop app, which is on Anthropic's own Windows list of apps to close. If a company computer will not let you close something, use a personal computer on a personal network, or switch to a test center.
- [ ] Dock, taskbar and toolbars hidden, so nothing can cover a button on the agreement screen.

The room

- [ ] A quiet room where you will be alone for the whole session, and where nobody can see your screen. Not a bathroom, and not a public place such as an office floor, a library or a coffee shop.
- [ ] A clear desk: only the computer, any pre-approved comfort aids, and a drink in an unmarked container. No notes, paper, pens, phone or watch within reach.

You

- [ ] One valid, unexpired, government-issued photo ID, with the name matching your booking exactly. You must be 18 or over.
- [ ] Your check-in time written down. Online: start check-in 30 minutes before your appointment. Test center: arrive by the time on your confirmation email.
- [ ] Your morning card written (the BUILD STEP below).
- [ ] A night's sleep. Not a joke. One more hour of reading is worth less than being fresh for 120 minutes of long scenarios.

The Morning Card

On a single card:

1. Your check-in time (online: 30 minutes before; test center: the time on your email) _____
2. The pace plan: _____
3. The read: _____

4. The either-way rule: _____
5. The reading order for the morning: _____

Then run the night-before list and tick every box. Anything you cannot tick tonight, fix tonight.

DELIVERABLE: Your exam-day page, filled in: the night-before list ticked and the morning card written.

Crash Course, Chapter 10.